We just received our new membership in the Society and we are quite pleased. I read your notice about items to share and I think we have one, if California counts.

My husband and I have opened our home in Tarzana, California for the past four years to folk musicians for an incredible house concert series. We have had the privilege of hosting Peggy Seeger and Ewan MacColl, Guy and Candi Carawan, Rosalie Sorrels, Roy Bookbinder, Debbie McClatchy, Priscilla Herdman, Erik Darling and forty-four other wonderful people. We can seat up to 150 people indoors and the setting is wonderful.

I am anxious to share this information with you because we would like to work with some Canadian groups. I have also organized seventeen other families between San Diego and San Francisco that also open their homes for these "house concerts". I am working with 29 college campuses as well, to try and get all performers as much work as possible out here.

If friends are travelling out to California, we welcome cards and calls and we will gladly let you know what's happening at that time, as far as hosts, concerts, classes, workshops, festivals, clubs, campouts etc. all over California are concerned.

We would like to keep in touch with you. Congratulations on your incredible efforts and our very best wishes.
