Richard White: Sun Over Darkness Prevail — Poetry of Stephan Stephansson put to music

Originally from Iceland, Stephan Stephansson arrived in Alberta in 1889 after spending some years in the US. He wrote many fine lyrical poems that capture some of the spirit of the Alberta plains. Richard White, an Edmonton singer-songwriter, has taken the English translations of these poems and put them to fine sensitive tunes and performed them with great craft. There are excellent notes and photographic material in the insert that comes with the album.
