"This is a four-day festival primarily featuring a variety of folk music, ranging from New England/British sea shanties to African/American soul/gospel/social justice songs, to French folk dance music, to Scottish Highland dancing. Newfoundland fiddling, new age acoustic guitar, contemporary folk from singer/songwriters, etc. We try to have a workshop or demonstration component, e.g., on storytelling, balladry, instrument making, etc., but most of the festival is concert oriented. Tapes, CDs and festival T-shirts are on sale, but no other craft fair content. This is a festival 'for the music'. Two outdoor venues, one a park bandstand, one a wharf, also our mainstage for evening shows in a large marquee tent."
