

Canadian Folk Festival Directory

We try to produce a listing of all festivals in Canada with significant traditional music content, with as much information on them as possible given our space constraints, but realistically we fall short of our goal. Some festivals we don't know about, some don't respond, some have personnel changes and we lose touch. We get information from other agencies, but these vary widely in the amount and kind of information they give us. In particular, some provincial tourist bureaus don't make their events lists available until March, too late for us to include the information in our March issue.

Please let us know about festivals which should be included and aren't. Also, we're still looking for people to help out with compiling the directory. If you have a flat-rate long distance phone plan, or Internet access and time on your hands, and want to help out, we'd be happy to share the load. [JL]

"An out-of-town weekend dance camp, featuring a form of country dance called contraband, taught by a caller (like square dancing) and done to live traditional fiddle music. Beginners, couples, singles, all are welcome; no membership required. Workshops are given in other dance forms, musical instruments, and related areas. Since 1988.

... Of the next song, I subjoin the music. It seems to have been composed on a young American (a Long-knife) who made love to a Chippewa girl (Ojibway quaince).

OJIBWAY QUAINCE.

We ah, bem, ah dè,
We mah jah need dè,
We ne moo, sha yun
We yà, yà hah hà ! we yà yà hah hà !
O mow we mah ne
We mah jah need dè,
O jib way quaince un nè,
We yà, yà hah hà ! we yà yà hah hà !
Kah ween, goo shah, ween nè,
Keesh wan zhe e we ye
O gah, mah we mah zeen.
We yà, yà hah yà ! we yà yà hah hà !

The literal meaning of the song, without the perpetual repetitions and transpositions, is just this:

Hah! what is the matter with the young Long-knife? he crosses the river with tears in his eyes. He sees the young Chippewa girl preparing to leave the place; he sobs for his sweetheart because she is going away, but he will not sigh for her long: as soon as she is out of sight he will forget her!

—Anna Brownell Jameson

Thanks to the wonders of modern technology, the cover photo (courtesy of the Glenbow, Calgary) documents a moment of imaginary time travel; your editors (JL on banjo, GWL on button accordion) returned to those thrilling days of yesteryear to help Wilf Carter out as he entertained the ladies 'way up in the Rockies. Party afterwards wasn't bad, either. (But don't tell our wives!)
